PROFILE

I am an enthusiastic person towards new learning. That is why I join this company to enhance my skills other than my academic qualification. I like to take on challenges and overcome them. I know that the world is going to be completely virtual. Therefore, I am making myself ready for future technical hitches.

I always prefer honesty. And I am also a good listener. I want to fulfill my dreams by burning the midnight oil. I am also working on my lacking areas. In this way, I would be able to contribute to the development of our country.
